JASTRZAB 15/MARCH 1973

This, dear hearts, is JASTRZAB, a journal of broken dreams and thwarted ambitions a la Diplomacy which is a game dreamed up by Allan Calhamer to frustrate our egos. Edited by Stan Wrobel, Seven Poland Village Blvd., Poland, Ohio 44514 (216-7574140 after 9:30 weeknights. Subscription rates are 10/$150; Game fees are $5.00; no trades are solicited.

DEADLINES FOR ALL GAME: SATURDAY, MARCH 31, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THREE. BE THERE.
1972AK--Spring 1905 1972CM--Winter 1904 1973G---Winter 1901 1969BV--Winter 1908 and
1972BQ--Spring 1904 1972EG--FALL 1902 1972Dcx-YAVIE 3023 Spring 1909
NEW GAME NEW GAME NEW GAME: *1969B---Winter 1912 on 3/24
JASTRZAB GAME SIX: Spring 1901 moves Spring 1913 on 4/7

GAME OPENINGS: Game #6 is filled and begins with this issue. Charles Reinsel, Bob the toothmen Keathley, and a host of others. Positions are therefore available for game #7 which will not begin before June, 1973 in keeping with my position of starting roughly four games per year only. Send only a country preference list along with a sworn statement attesting to your sanity to join in.

GAME DEADLINES: We have been requested to entertain a motion in one of the games by which the game deadline would be approximately two weeks apart and run by carbon-copy to a certain extent. In line with this, we will also entertain a similar motion in any of the other games now running here. However, we would agree to change a particular game speed if and only if all participating players agreed to the speed-up. I personally dislike two week deadlines and, with the current efficiency of the US Postal System, am beginning to mistrust three week deadlines also. JASTRZAB deadlines take this into account slightly. This issue will in all probability be going out to all on or by Wednesday March 7 or at the latest Thursday, March 8. We do not expect the majority of you to receive your copy before Saturday, March 10. Three weeks from that is Saturday, March 31. To insure moves being received here by the deadline they would have to be mailed on the preceding Wednesday. Thus, the time involved is still not three weeks for the player. Your opinions are requested on this.

GENERAL ORDERS ON FILE: OSTAPKOVICH ('72EG), FRASSE ('72BQ), DEPRISCO ('72BQ), HINT!!!!!!

This past weekend, the Youngstown area was again the scene of much blood and gore, even without Edi Birsan, may he rest in peace. Two face-to-face games were played with Norb Reinsel, John Koning, John Smythe, Tony Dastoli, Tim Burnich, Jim Hasseney, and your humble narrator as conspirators. Untypical games for the Youngstown crowd...I was the stabber and not the stabbed in both games. The first game stalemated with Koning (T), Reinsel (I), and myself (A) against Smythe (F), Burnich (E), and Hasseney (G). It was called before John the K and myself had had a chance to go and hit Charles, but not before we had effectively dealt with Tony Dastoli's Russia. The second game...ah, sweet victory. Smythe (R), Dastoli (T), Hasseney (A), Koning (F), Burnich (G), Norb (E), and little old me as France. A grand alliance was quickly established to remove the Smytheland from the board. Unfortunately the Lord of Darkness persuaded me to hit England at the same time...hehhehheh. It took seven games years admittedly, but Reinsel was reduced to a fleet in DENMARK! Shades of the New York crowd! Reinsel caught on quick to the YUDC style of negotiations though: "IF YOU ALLY WITH HIM, SMYTHE WILL WIN!" "IF YOU CONTINUE POUNDING ME, SMYTHE WILL WIN!" "CONVOY ME TO NORTH AFRICA OUT OF EDINBURGH AND I'LL HELP YOU KILL KONING FOR YOUR WIN!" "SMYTHE, I NEED YOUR SUPPORT TO HOLD DENMARK!" "HELP!" ...and a good time was had by all.

KIEL (Computron Press): More thought went into this press release than into Italy's invasion of Germany....

SOMEWHERE IN TURKEY (Fisbin): Due to certain extenuating circumstances, the Turkish government has decided to retire into XANDU. The actions of certain backstabbers has convinced us that it was foolish and fool-hardy to ever have entertained optimistic thoughts about our opposition, as our fate had been divined by others before we had spoken our first words. It is our wish to thank those several countries who have given us their sympathy and express our contempt for the base animals of Austria and Italy. We fight on not to win but rather to cause them inconvenience.

POLAND, ITALY (Muddy Press): Fanny, putting one over on Manly Wibel, took him for a long ride on a short pier. But being very light-headed, Wibel floated to safety and lived. NEXT TIME: The further battles of Manly Wibel and Fanny Froubell.

Regardless of Sidney Witt's inattention, this game cannot be called a two-way draw. However, in response to another petition, we will deadline this game at two weeks. Any player who objects to this must respond in writing with a "nay". The moves will then be sent out by carbon-copy and reprinted in JASTRZAB as deadlines permit. At the moment, this game could also not be declared a three-way draw either. Therefore, unless we hear to the contrary, the deadline for Winter 1912 builds and removals will be Saturday, March 24, 1973. The deadline for Spring 1913 moves will be Saturday, April 7, 1973. Perhaps we may thusly satisfy the eager beavers of this game yet.

THE PEERS OF PEERIGRAD

When Leerie Peerie was born, a star fell from heavin (The glue in the Royal Pleasure Dome didn't hold too well.). On his tenth birthday he slew his father, Peerless Pompous Peerie the 17th, and became PEERIE THE ONLY. Peerie Peerie Peerie, (he changed his first name, and abolished the word sovereign---calling it Peerie instead) then decreed that the capitol of Slobodnikoviski should be changed from the PEERLESS' CAPITOL CITY to PEERIGRAD. He was so overjoyed with this change that he began to change all titles, names, nouns, verbs, adjectives, etc., to become Beeriwords, which went into the Peeribook (formerly dictionary). Entire volumes of encyclopedias became useless as they shrunk to containing but one thin leaf of from 20 to 60 words, while the "P" volume became 17, 432 Peeripages long!

Peerie's next innovation occurred on his 17th birthday, when he invented abbreviations, or Peeripointing. Peeripointing caught on with the Peers of Peeriland, but it created havoc for the Peeripost, which had to deliver all of the Peeriprattle (formerly letters, postcards, magazines, newspapers, etc.,). Peerie's address became Peerless, Peerie Peerie Peerie, Peerichamber, Peeriwing, Peeripalace, Peeriestate, Peerijavo, Peericountry, Peeriprovince, Peeriland--or Peer. to the twelfth! The Peers of Peeriland loved Peeripointing so much that entire books were written in Peeripoint, but, since "Peer." was the Peeripoint for just about everything, life became somewhat confusing! People went to a store for Peeri-juice and got a Peerivagon, or asked for a Peeriloan at the Peeribank and got shot by the Peeribankguard if they hiccuped! Even the national Peerianthem was kind of pointless:

(sung to the tune of Little Brown Jug....)

Peer, Peer., Peer.;

Peer., and Peer.

Peer-less Peer. Peer. Peer. love Peer.

etc.

Everyone in Peeriland had Peeri-itis (acute buchial verbosity, coupled with diarrhea of the mouth, a tendency toward sporadic breathing, and terminal name-drop-itis) after just one year of intense Peeripointing!

.....and so as we leave Peeriland we see Peerless Peerie Peerie Peerie printing a letter from Norman Stinkin' Rackwell, complimenting Peerie on his Peerirag, and the John Farnsworth Nobody award, for the first place in the Peerless Peerie Peerie Peerie Peeripointing contest, but not wanting to be included on its mailing list.

DATELINE: Hopeless Intersection, September, 7, 1972 (Just got here....)

There were these two Polish immigrants who went to work for a large pickle factory in West Virginia. The foreman brought both of them to the part of the assembly line where they were to work fixing tops to jars as they sped along the line. After giving both men their instructions, the foreman left to see to his other men. Returning after 20 minutes due to trouble signals from the control board he discovered one of the Poles feverishly working on the line with the other standing at attention next to him staring down at the other.

"What the hell are you doing?" roared the foreman to the upright Pole.

"I'm a light bulb." replied the man in confidence.

"Huh?...get back to work, you fruitcake, and no more horsing around!" was the astonishing reply from the otherwise short tempered boss.

Five minutes later, the red lights at the control board wer indication a backup at the section where the two new workers were. Storming into the area, the foreman found the men in the same position as before, only with the working man moving twice as fast so as to handle the work of two men.

Looking straight at the unflinching apparently unworking employee, the foreman shouted: "What's a matter with you anyway; don't you understand plain English? What do you think you are anyway, some VIP?"

"I'm a light bulb" was the only reply he got from the unshaken Pole.

"Look, I'll give you one more chance and then it's all over; now get to work and work fast." was the sharp retort from the now red-in-the-face floor pro.

MOSVA: (MUCKER PRESS): The Czar was up late last night, long into the Moscow winter night contemplating the forthcoming spring campaigning. Close inside sources ((THE INSIDE-THE-COVERS-BEDMAID?)) said the Czar was not worried about his enemies. He knows their moves. He simply does not know what his allies are up to. Sources said "That's what he getski for being in a polski gameski" "Poles are not too brightski!", the Czar retorted. It was also reportedly alleged that rumor had it, accoring to a reliable news source, which asked not to be quoted, that the Czar is angry, and everyone knows what that means. ((HE EATS LESS?))

Wadcalader blamed the situation on what he called the "Red menace" during peak traffic periods. "Every one know, " he said, "how all communters are Russian 'till they get home."

Ten minutes later the lights at control once again gave rise to a now furious foreman. Upon coming on the two men, one was in the usual position standing up-right staring down at his now exhausted friend coubled over near the stagnate line.

"Why aren't you working? Don't you listen to anyone?" thundered the foreman.

"I'm a light bulb." was the consistant reply of the Pole.

"OK, get the hell out of here and don't let me see you around here again." was the now disgusted command by the foreman. Noosooner had the shocked 'worker' left the room when the other Pole got up and started to wander off towards the door. In amazement the foreman shouted to him: "Now what's wrong with you; you did fine; you're not fired. What'sa matter?"

From the closing door came the tattered reply: "Can't work without light."

PARIS: Rumors of a shake up in the Government were confirmed today when it was announced that Prime Minister Perrre Bologna (alias Willy Klitzke, alias Madame Bovary, alias Hari Seldon, alias Jack the Ripper, alias etc.) took over France's government and revealed his true identity as Napoleon XIII. Details released indicate that the coup was a near thing, succeeding only when Bologna's reserves, 400 midgets dressed in Old Guard uniforms and supported by 3 9lb. muzzle loaders, stormed the Louve.

LONDON: BBC news today announced the most amasing act today since the Channel was crossed in 1066. The British Government has been overthrown. In a lightning fquick coup d'etat, the government was overthrown by a coalition of Irish, Welsh, and Scottish revolutionaries. The reason given for the overthrow was the oppressinn of these various groups by the former British government. The new head of the provisional government is expected to speak to the people of the Empire within the next couple of days. He is said to be an Irishman by the name of Charlie O'Shea. Lancaster 3- Whippers 2.

EDINBURGH: The British fleet here quickly changed sides today in the coup. The revolutionaries managed this necessary act by quite unorthodox means. At first the fleet had threaten to blow the twon apart if the revolutionaries did not surrender. but were soon made to change their minds. One hour before the fleet guns would have gone into action, all the whiskey and ale in the town was destroyed, with the brewers promising that no more would be made if the fleet destroyed the twon. At the same time, all the 'ladies' of the town threatened to on on strike. The fleet quickly gave in.

LIVERPOOL: The British First Division stationed here mutinied when faced with the prospects which threatened them. It started when a large body of Welshman quietly creeped into twon and drank the entire town dry. Then they threatened to continue to drink all that came into town unless the division came over to their sides. The only casulaities in the entire campaign were suffered when a detachment of Welshmen mistakenly attacked and drank dry an entire dairy. They were wiped out the to the man.

JAMUL: What's going on, huh? Here we were nice to everybody; we retreated all our nasty press; we made 'neutral moves; we wrote nice letters to everyone, and what happens? ITALY attacks! RUSSIA attacks! TURKEY attacks! (I know the last one doesn't look right, but those moves he made were to fake me out.) And I can see Germany, France, and England burrowing up from under the board any minute. All of which leads me to the inescapable conclusion that Eric Verheiden is really Harry Drews, Jim Boskey is really Andy Davidson, and John DePrisco is really John Piggott. I QUIT! I RESIGN! I CAN'T STAND IT ANY MORE! Sob...

JAMUL: Hey, everyone; guess what? 'Yobell's nickname is...hehheh..snicker..."Gurk"! SCRRCH! And so I ask our beloved Gamesmaster: O Gurk, great sage of the northern Fostoria swamps, what is my future in this game? The usual, or is there hope?

J/STFY GORKI: Gurk. Guuuurrrrk. GURK! GUUUUUURRRRRKKKKK!!!! Nope, it doesn't sound like it to me, but I could be mistaken as I am not too familiar with the sounds that a seven foot, multi-lingual babbling, operatic humming cockatrice would produce in trying to say my name. YOUd FUTURE: You are doomed to a barrage of Pepper & the Red Hots' Oldies-but-Goodies while Eric the Sneaky and Eller the esculent prepare to feast on you later.....

Claud staggered back to the city dump, his gear box in his hands! "Where is your L36HP mack--you dumb Polock?" Claud could only wimper and look pathetic in his oil stained leotard. He shuffled back and forth, like a little boy who had just wet his pants--for that is what, in fact, he had actually done! (Claud had gotten some hairs and skin caught in his zipper ((WHOSE HAIRS AND SKIN?)) at the scene of the mugging). It was sad to see a grown Polock cry...while pissing in his leotard! ((THAT'S A POLISH JOKE))

Meanwhile, back at the Metropolis City Police Station/Bingo Palace, Battly Woman, alias Lois Lewandowski, was being booked on charges of assult and rape---the mugger and the girl in the alley! She was so distraught she almost barfed up the 7 10scoop ice cream sodas, which she had had for brunch.

"Someone SAVE me!" she belched at the top of her ample lungs!

Across town, Claud Oopoopookowski, disguised as Fred Oopoopookowski, was eating in a swank Polish night club/bowling alley when he heard Lois' scream. "Batty Woman is in trouble! I must save her!" Fred ran from the Club Dumpo, his fine linen napkin (former bowling shirt) ((FOR THE LD ALL STARS!)) still tucked beneath his chin. Thrity minutes later he was at the Police Station charged with stealing a linen napkin. With both Claud Oopoopookowski and Battly Woman in Jail, Metropolis would be overrun by muggers, rapists, murderers--and, most vicious of all, shopping bag thieves! ((AT LAST...THE STORY BEGINS))

TUNE IN NEXT TIME to hear Lois say" Thirty more scoops of ice cream, Please--and don't crush the nuts!" ((REWRITE...SAVE FOR LATER EDITION. ED))

THE INTERNATIONAL GAME SHOW. JUNE 22, 23, and 24, 1973. Held this year at the Bismark Hotel, Lasalle & Randolph, in Downtown Chicago. Newly remodled rooms ($16/day/singles and $22/day/doubles...so bring a friend). They picked a newly remodled hotel so Edi Birsan would not get his finger stuck in the air conditioner mechanisms. Diplo-ConVI with the 49 player tournament with top prize of the DIPLOMACY CUP and an inlaid wooden Diplomacy board. ((Playing pieces are not made of paper as rumored around)) Meetings of the IDA and the TDA. panel discussions, seminars, etes, etc.. A Chess Masters exhibition of ancient Chess sets and skill. "The largest Historical Conflict Simulations Convention in the United States" ((These guys have never seen John Smythe and Eric Just in the same game)) Napoleonics, Modern, World War II, Naval (both WWI and WWII), American Civil War, Medieval, and Fantasy with a major tournament planned with prizes. For more information and an explanation of the fees and rates, write to THE INTERNATIONAL GAME SHOW, 205 W. Wacker, Chicago, Illinois, 60606. Ye old Editor and Humble Narrator enjoyed hisself immensely last year and has made some plans to attend this year's stellar starshine production. If you enjoy wargames and/or meeting your heroes/enemies in the flesh, this is the place to see them all. I can see mein enemies practically any weekend here in the Youngstown Congregation so I have to go somewhere else to find peeples who don't know me! Chicago in '73! Yeah.

LAISONS DANGEREUSES, Lenard Lakofka, 4970 North Marine Dr., Apt 525, Chicago, Ill 60640. Subscription rates: 9/$2.00 regardless of size, first class mailing. Various other rates. Game fees: Various rates depending on whether or not your mother was Polish, your father was Polish, you are an experienced Player, a newcomer, A Rogues Gallerier. Last issue received here was #41, 2/10/73, and contained the following: a buncha games, the BROBDINGNAG RATING LEST, a list of CIRCULATION FIGURES for the leading Dippy 'zines, a listing of the results of the ARCHIVES PLAYER POLL, a listing of the results of the last BEYERLEIN PLAYER POLL, a listing of the last AVERAGED CALHAMER LISTINGS, the CALHAMER POINT COUNT LISTINGS; the ROGUES' GALLERY country listings, averaged, a partiãã listing of the AVERAGE ROGUES GALLERY PLAYER LISTINGS, a listing of the ROGUES GALLERY TOTAL POINT COUNT, some BITS and PIECES, a plug for the INTERNATIONAL GAME SHOW, a DIPLO-CON VI POLL, a half-page of press releases, a few plugs for other worthwhile 'zines, a small editorial section, and over a half page devoted to the printing of an obscure Press Release similiar to the one you all have just suffered through above. This is just a typical issue; nothing really special; probably worth subscribing to though if you read Lafokonese well or enjoy Diplomacy.

((DAMN...THE THINGS SOME OF US HAVE TO DO TO GET A DISCOUNT TO GET INTO THAT GAME SHOW IS GETTING REDICULOUS)). ((MEMO TO CAROL BUCHANAN: YOU HAVE NOT ESCAPED OUR ATTENTION!))

NO PRESS RELEASES!!!!!! BOO!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Mordor DA West Rhun is retreated to Dagorland. The Dwarf SA Wilderlands is annihilated. The Rohanese DA East Emnet must retreat to Rauros, Wold, West Emnet, or OTB. Please advise asap and we will inform the others of the direction of the retreat. Paul Bond is alive and well somewhere, but to be safe, would Eric the Red please submit an order for the Gondor DA for the fall move coming. In response to an inquiry, this game is being played under JASTRZAB HOUSE RULES of 1971. These are basically the same as the original THE VOICE HOUSE RULES, except the JRHR is not used, and replacement players are permitted. In response to another inquiry, the MEN OF THE NORTH DID NOT warrant an additional unit for this season or year as both units remained on the board by their retreats.
